Brian’s away trip to Colombia ends badly

HENRY JONES

Picked up the pieces while I just set my lineup for the week...

Recently, I’ve been inspired to create a piece for the Gazette as more and more of us choose to get in on the league content. Especially since I said I would do a mock draft and failed to release it. A good pivot is a re-draft. This re-draft is half what I think owners would do with a second chance and what I believe where players should have gone. If you don’t agree, too bad this is my re-draft. Let’s get into it.

1.01: Drew- Puka Nacua Undrafted (Bijan Robinson)

This is a no brainer. Puka seemingly came out of nowhere in 2023 and became the undrafted diamond in the rough across the dynasty community. Drew could use the help at RB, but young WRs are king in dynasty. Drew would have a clear start sit decision now; Pookua over Amari Pooper.

1.02: Brian- Jahmyr Gibbs +/- 0 (Jahmyr Gibbs)

I really debated this pick for Brian; however, once a goose always a goose. I see no reason to raise the alarms over Monty’s new deal, as Monty sticking around can only benefit Gibbs’ long-term health. Gibbs has shown to be extremely explosive and has produced RB1 numbers while in a shared backfield.

1.03: Andrew- Bijan Robinson -2 (Quentin Johnston)

No brainer here for Andrew, as he drafts the former clear #1 dynasty asset in the 2023 rookie class. For the hype he received, you can say his rookie season was a disappointment but there is

Gibbs was the RB1 but couldn’t do enough to pull Brian to the win only one man to blame for that. In a competent offense, he’ll find his true form and start hitting expectations more and more.

1.04: Kyle - Rashee Rice +15 (Jaxon Smith-Njigba)

“3.07 for the felon” - Rat King, Kyle finally adds the felon but pays way more than the 3.07. If it weren’t for his season-ending injury and his performance in the Fast & the Furious, Rice would have been debatably the 1.01 or 1.02. The connection with Mahomes is there but the time away adds uncertainty, so he drops a couple spots. Kyle, my answer is still “No” by the way.

1.05: Andrew - DeVon Achane +5 (Jordan Addison)

Andrew has no choice with his tragic RB room, he takes another RB. I shouldn’t make it sound like he’s getting stuck with Achane. With a healthy Tua, he has been an absolute BA BA BA BOOOM! on the field. All he has to do is convince Tua to wear a Guardian Cap. Andrew has now fully revived his RB room.

1.06: Jennette - CJ Stroud +9 (Anthony Richardson)

Take two. Jennette drafts a QB again. AR still has great potential but has shown an inability to stay on the field and perform. Jennette gets stability at the QB position with Stroud; which is greatly needed especially since Kyler became a COD partner. Tune in two picks from now to see if Jennette completes the most obvious stack of all time.

1.07: Holden- Jayden Reed +14 (Zay Flowers)

As the resident Jayden Reed hater, it pains me to say but he is the clear pick here. If it weren’t for all

Lions duo top of their positional scoring? We’ve seen this before the mouths to feed in Green Bay, he’d probably be higher up. He currently sits as the WR5 in 2024 for scoring, while being 36th in targets for WRs. Reed has proven to be very efficient with his targets and a lack thereof is the only thing that is holding him back from entering a conversation with the league’s elite WR. Sad to say, Holden still would have traded him for Rachaad White. Good trade Kyle.

1.08: Jennette- Tank Dell +18 (Zach Charbonnet)

If you have stayed tuned and have actually read all these, for one thank you, and for two Jennette completes his stack with Tank. This just in, the price of brick just went up. I would not select Dell here, but Jennette loves this kid and it’s honestly not hard to see why. He got that dog in him. Texans have a crowded WR room currently,

3. The Gaggle Strikes Back	3-4	1
4. Big Berd	2-5	2
5. HOT TUA GO!	2-5	2

Big week for Njoku but it wasn’t enough for Donny though Tank will be a meaningful part of this offense no matter what. He'll get his.

■ 1.09: Kyle- Zay Flowers -2 (Kender Miller)

Kyle takes his fellow BC Eagle. Zay Flowers looks to be coming into his own early in year 2 and is Lamar's guy (RIP Bus Andrews 😊). Even though this is a run first team, Flowers gets peppered with targets, which even in down weeks will still buoy his score. Barring any changes he will continue to be the WR1 for the Ravens.

■ 1.10: Brian- Jaxon Smith-Njigba -6 (De'Von Achane)

Brian and Ohio State WRs are becoming synonymous with one another. He had Michael Thomas and currently has Olave and Wilson. JSN completes the OSU silly goose WR trio. JSN has disappointed since the draft, though he has flashed why he received so much pre-draft hype. I believe he has way more room to grow in Seattle and will be a great WR for years to come.

After Round 1, we see five new faces enter the top 10. One undrafted rookie, two 2nd rounders, and two 3rd rounders. I have not reviewed other drafts as in depth as this yet, but I would be interested to see how other drafts compare. How many selected in the first round would still deserve to be there? After just one year and 7 games, five players not retaining their round 1 status feels high. A potential future gazette piece? Ok, we're gonna start doing quick hitters now before I either lose interest or the whines to play my CFB game start.

■ 2.01: Holden- Sam LaPorta +9 (Roschon Johnson)

For those that use dynastylovers.com, LaPorta is still considered the TE1 from this draft even after an extremely disappointing start to year 2. Holden is not concerned and gets his TE of the future.

■ 2.02: Brian- Jordan Addison -7 (Jonathan Mingo)

Felt difficult to place Addison, but to drop him further wouldn't make sense. Though he plays second fiddle to Jefferson, this is a solid pass first offense. He is the long term WR2.

■ 2.03: Andrew- Dalton Kincaid +/- 0 (Dalton Kincaid)

This section of the draft stays as the hot bed for TEs. Andrew takes Kincaid again. Being tied to Josh Allen is all that really needs to be said here.

■ 2.04: Holden- Tank Bigsby +4 (Michael Mayer)

Holden needs RB helping and the recently emerging Tank Bigsby is his answer. Had this re-draft been done any earlier, I'm not sure he'd be this high up. Tank has shown he can spell Etienne well and will eat into his touches.

■ 2.05: Michael- Anthony Richardson -9

(CJ Stroud)

AR goes almost a whole round later. He has a lot of growth to undergo, if he hits though he'd be a league winner. Michael also loves to draft positions where he doesn't need the help.

■ 2.06: Kyle- Quentin Johnston -13 (Bryce Young)

The QJ slide finally comes to an end. Year two has looked much better for QJ. It's not dark and gloomy anymore, though the sunshine and rainbows are off in the distance. He's become an avg NFL WR and a possible spot start player in a lineup.

■ 2.07: Drew- Demario Douglas Undrafted (Marvin Mims)

Drew replaces one very Drew pick for another. Pop has looked to have more life with Maye under center. Drew will hope that continues and that Pop gets off the toilet. If I had a nickel for every bathroom joke I made about Drew's picks, I'd have two nickels. Which isn't a lot, but it's weird that it happened twice.

■ 2.08: Andrew- Chase Brown +9 (Tank Bigsby)

Andrew continues to fortify his RB room. Chase Brown keeps taking away work from Zack Moss and on a good Bengals offense, why would you not want him?

■ 2.09: Jack- Tucker Kraft Undrafted (Rashee Rice)

I choose the correct Packer's TE to invest in. Luke Musgrave, you're a bitch.

■ 2.10: Kyle- Josh Downs +2 (Sam LaPorta)

Thought I would have Downs higher up but with AR as the Colts' QB I just can't move him up much more. He's shown flashes but the inability to consistently get the ball from his QB hurts him.

■ 3.01: Drew- Zach Charbonnet -13 (Jayden Reed)

King of RB2s picks a solid insurance policy. Charbonnet has looked solid in starts when KW3 is out and KW3 has been known to miss several games a year.

■ 3.02: Brian- Dontayvion Wicks Undrafted (Josh Downs)

Wicks truthers hover above your seat. Brian selects his fellow alum. If Wicks can learn to catch or get traded, we have life.

■ 3.03: Andrew- Brandon Aubrey Undrafted (Israel Abanikanda)

The kicker takes the kicker. Dynasty PK1.

■ 3.04: Holden- Tyjae Spears +/- 0 (Tyjae Spears)

The third alum picking an alum. Roll Green Wave! Any real excitement for Spears this year was speared by Pollard coming to town.

■ 3.05: Donny- Cedric Tillman +3 (Jalin Hyatt)

A very late addition here. In the first game with no Amari Cooper, Tillman saw a crazy target share and performed well with it. Seems like a solid dart throw considering post lasik Jameis will be under center.

■ 3.06: Jennette-Tre Tucker Undrafted (Tank Dell)

A lot of bums left, why not take a chance on a young WR in a Raiders WR room that has opened up with the departure of Adams. FYI, Tre Tucker is a baller in Madden 24. Rob Russell to Tucker fed families.

■ 3.07: Kyle- Bryce Young -11 (Chase Brown)

Kyle loves his roastable players. He takes another chance on Bryce but for cheaper. Hard to see a path where Bryce finds success in the future, with his draft capital though there is still a glimmer of hope.

■ 3.08: Brian- Jonathan Mingo -16 (Cedric Tillman)

I've heard rumors of Diontae Johnson being moved from the Panthers before the deadline. Why not? Brian takes a slice of Mingo.

■ 3.09: Kyle- Kendre Miller -20 (Zach Evans)

see pick 3.07 insert Dennis Allen quote

■ 3.10: Drew- Kayshon Boutte Undrafted (Darnell Washington)

Another very Drew pick. With Polk looking like Boutte and Pop pooping, Drew double dips into the Pats WR well. Three nickels now btw.
