Michael holds off Brian; moves to 7-3 all time

Picked up the pieces while relaxing on vacation this week...

We all know how excited people get for the weekly Power Rankings poll, so as a freelancer I decided to reach out to the Gazette with an idea. Another poll. Head writer Drew Allen was happy to hold an article spot this week for the poll result and I am grateful to him and the rest of the Gazette team for the opportunity to write for this esteemed publication. Now without further ado, let's get to the results.

Hole digging hopefuls
Michael Galetta - Neigh Sayers (-17)
While 2 people shockingly left Michael off their ballot entirely, our resident horse girl claimed the spot "Most Hoped to See Staring up from the Bottom of a 4 Foot Hole. Some respondents feel Michael needs to be "humbled" after his recent championship, but I feel this positioning is most likely correlated with the yap to win ratio we have seen on full display this week.

John Berdos - Big Berd is Always Watching

(-15)
One person voted Berdos as the team they most want to see win the championship, which is all that stood between him and the #1 hole hopeful spot. Berdos' Faustian strategy of selling his soul for a championship seems to have people wanting the hole to come collect. There are even some rumblings about Tony rubbing people wrong with stubborn trade deals. Maybe some front office moves in the future if (and when) the hole man comes knocking.

Sean Tucker was #PL34SED to be the RB1 this week

Drew - Dr*ws in Paris (-5)
It may seem unfair to lump Drew into this same bucket considering the gap in the votes, but he was the last person to not receive any championship favorite votes. Since I am a purely unbiased reporter, it definitely doesn't have anything to do with the "clerical error" under Drew's watch that led to him recently avoiding the sandy depths of the hole. Definitely not.

Kinda just there
Jennette - Big Bucky Hunter (-1)
Jennette didn't get a ton of attention either way here. Only 2 people included him on their ballot, but one of them put him at the top of their hole most wanted list. Their reasoning being "He should be eternally punished for his championship run." There's a theme here where the dynasty champions have been on the hole side of the spectrum. Will we see Jack in the ranks soon?

Andrew - Chameleons (-1)
Surprising for some that Andrew falls pretty much in the middle of this list, but it turns out that people have mixed feelings about the Chameleons. People are changing their opinions of this team almost as quickly as the franchise changes team photos each week. Though this bit was not mentioned by voters as either a positive or negative, I have a feeling we're seeing the lack of a championship factor into those fan favorite votes.

Donny - Allen of Arrakis (0)
Potentially another surprising one, but Donny netted an even score across the ballot. If this vote were taken during his undefeated run a few years ago I think we'd be seeing different results, but the hole seems to have humbled him a bit (as people are hoping it can do to others in the future!)

Jack - The Fantasy Menace (4)
There's Jack! He bucks the trend of title winners turning into hole hopefuls. He's the first one on our list who no one voted wanted to see in the hole, which is good because based on recent chat history he's been voted most likely to get frazzled by criticism!

These guys haven't pissed anyone off (yet)
Brian - The Gaggle Strikes Back (10)
Our only other team to not receive any hole votes, the Gaggle have people on their side for the most part. It probably helps that their namesake is a jab at the owner in 10th place on the list. I saw Treyton Burks caught a pass this week, glad to see he might pan out yet!

Holden - HOT TUA GO! (11)
Things get interesting with Holden. When diving into votes, I noticed Holden had 11 votes across the ballots. But this shouldn't be possible, there were 10 ballots and Holden wasn't allowed to vote for himself. Turns out multiple people voted for Holden to both be their preferred champion AND preferred hole digger.

Kyle - Medellin Sex Tourists (14)
And finally, our largest fan favorites were the sex addicts. Some quotes included "A happy ending to

Chris Godwin is quietly having an elite year

"this man is due," and my personal favorite "MFer has been through it." More weird results here with two more people voting Kyle in both categories. He and Coop would both be great content either way, and it'd mean we'd get to travel for the hole! That wraps our first edition of Everybody Loves Polls. If people enjoyed the segment we can look to expand in the future with more polls and more rankings, just let the editors at the Gazette know!
